

“Put Your Science to Work! Practical Career Strategies for Scientists & Engineers”

Keynote Speaker Peter Fiske

Wednesday, September 16, 2009
1:00 PM – 3:15 PM

Carmichael Auditorium, Hunter Lab, 89 Waterman St.

Scientist and Author Peter Fiske, MBA, PhD., will present a thorough and practical overview to the process of career planning and job hunting in today's job market. Fiske, a nationally-recognized author and lecturer on leadership and career development for young scientists, will cover specific steps to broaden your horizons, strengthen your skills, and present your best face to potential employers. Most young scientists possess a range of valuable "transferable skills" that are highly sought after by employers in and out of science. He will cover specifics of job hunting, and with each topic he will discuss the challenges and opportunities faced by those with advanced degrees in science.

For further information on Fiske, visit http://sciencecareers.sciencemag.org/career_development/previous_issues/articles/2006_09_08/opportunities_series_index/\(parent\)/14005/14005).

Open to Postdocs, Graduate Students, Faculty, and Undergrads

Co-Sponsored by: Office of Graduate & Postdoctoral Studies, Graduate School, Sheridan Center,
Career Development Center, and the Office of Vice President for Research